Dear Friends,

When Southout first came to Covenant House Georgia, she was pregnant and didn't have a place to call home.

Her family disapproved of her pregnancy, and it was clear she was no longer welcome. Soughtout was forced to create a new life on her own. One of Soughtout's coworkers at the grocery store suggested she come to CHGA for help.

Of course, our doors were open and our team was ready to welcome her.

Now, Soughtout says her three-month-old daughter, Amaze, is her motivation. She shared, "I want to give her better opportunities than I had. She's my blessing."

With support from CHGA and friends like you, Soughtout is on her way to a more hopeful future for herself and her daughter.

As part of our Pregnant & Parenting Youth program, Soughtout has access to housing support, mentorship opportunities, parenting and life skills classes, physical and mental health services, and a community of people who show her absolute respect and unconditional love.

This holiday season, Soughtout says she can't wait to create new holiday traditions with Amaze as they break bread with loved ones.

Covenant House Georgia is one of only a handful of youth shelters that offers housing and wraparound care to young families. Will you help young families like Soughtout's as they build their futures?
